5

SYSTEM AND METHOD FOR MANAGING OBJECTS BETWEEN PROJECTS

Abstract

A system and method for manipulating objects between related projects. Dependencies between object are checked as objects are moved between projects. The dependency review enables all dependent object to be copied simultaneously. The system and method facilitates the management of multiple stages of a project by permitting as object and all of its modified dependents to be easily copied from one stage to another.